

2004 Mitchelton Print Shiraz

Five Stars

'Wow. this is a wine worthy of its price - premium central Victorian Shiraz at its best. Released with four years bottle age, it already drinks superbly well but should improve further if you can wait...'

Handpicked, Fergus McGhie

March 2009

'Print is Victorian producer Mitchelton's top shelf red. It spends 18 months in oak and another three years in the bottle before release. This latest vintage is big and bold with upfront plum and berry fruit on the nose and palate, integrated spice and chocolate characters and fine tannins. Drink with rare roast beef or cellar for another decade.'

Illawarra Mercury, January 2008

'This is the most detailed Print ever... With a uniquely captivating bouquet, highly polished fruit (which is more Burgundian than Shiraz like) and restrained oak influence... Barlow and Ben Haines have combined forces to bring sensitivity to this wine in equal measure. The result is unprecedented.'

93 Points

'Smooth, firm and concentrated...It reveals a confiture-like quality, with underlying nuances of cloves, cinnamon... finishing complex and savoury.'
